

Preparation for the next "apocalyptic storms"

Letzte Aktualisierung Freitag, 12. Februar 2010

After 40 days of fasting and prayer, God gave this message to me here ...

The Lord speaks: My child, there will be tremendous and terrible storms hitting this world and it will totally dwarf all what you have seen and experienced before.

The political and economical situation of the world is not good. Even the blind notices this. Everywhere there are tensions and crises. Bad news chases bad news. It's like it was with Job. Almost no one knows of any advice. And all around us there is neither help nor satisfactory solutions for this situation. Governments themselves are stuck in a gridlock where nothing moves in either direction. Other than bells and whistles, it's all hollow words - there's just nothing there.

Lo and behold my children, for you, I've got a solution. You shall find shelter and refuge with Me. Here, you will surely survive all these coming apocalyptic storms. Do neither count on your money nor on all this great talking of the human greats, trust in My Spirit and Word (the bible) alone. Be of good cheer, My good Spirit will take charge in guiding you. Listen to him, listen to your inner voice and obey. It will be said to you at the very moment how you should behave, whom you should follow and whom you should trust. Also what you should acquire and what you should let go! My Holy Spirit will tell your inner voice what you should say and what you should keep to yourself. Your heart - filled with My Spirit - will know the truth and will act accordingly. And do not fret the results. Your obeying Me will pay off and will save you just like it once did Noah.

My child, surrender all fears and worries to Me, says the Lord. Just cling to me, worship me and be one with Me, talk with Me, ask in your prayers, and I will answer concretely. Continue serving Me just like you have done and "partially" acted upon in former days, and I will save and keep your house save from all the impending catastrophes and crises. Be in Me and do not fret about anything because I will make all things straight for you and mend your "chaotic worldly condition" into a "cosmos" of good things. I want to be your fellow "wanderer" on your ways, says the Lord. I want to be with you, standing trustworthily at your side by giving you very specific advice and counsel. Just listen to Me, hear my voice within you, says the Lord. I am within you. I am going with you wherever you must go and must go through. Do not be afraid, you have Me, says the Lord. Be of good cheer and not disheartened.

My child - do not fear what will happen within the forthcoming days in this world. I am the Lord of all times, even of these apocalyptic times. I still control everything. Trust in Me. Do not become intimidated and sick of fear. Do not fret the upcoming tests that will come upon you, that you will have to master, I will stand by and help you. Seize my Word (bible) - take and read it - in it you will find comfort and strength. By it I will speak to you clearly and distinguished, I will reveal Myself to you by telling you lifesaving solutions and answers. I will continue to be your shepherd and guide. Don't let anyone come and stand between us. Cling on Me, says the Lord.
